

Draw me a color/ paint me in umber
Let our love die/ in a nap or slumber
We were never meant/ to be together
Your legs around my waist/ what could be better?

*I wasn't looking for a distraction
You entered my life/ looking for what?
I thought I was done with attraction
Too often deluded/ by someone hot.*

Draw me a line/ That never ends
Tie me to a tree/ older than memory
How is it possible/ That I'm here with you
You hate me/ I know that's true

We could have been/ an interesting pair
Entering a room/ people would stare
Who was more beautiful/ they would compare
But no one would come out a winner

Raise the roof/ hand out pamphlets
Rule the world/ put on Hamlet
Spit out your gum/ into the gutter
Watch it lay there/ fizz and sputter

Now that you're gone/ I really miss you
Snapping your gum/ Avoiding my kisses
We were never/ meant to be together
Not even Best Friends/ never Forever.
