Go to ...

You thought you knew what was broken
You thought you knew what went wrong
You thought you knew how to fix it
You thought you knew the words to the song

Chorus;

*Once you might have captured my heart
But you never really held it tight
You turned your back on what was true
You revealed you didn't know wrong from right*

I can't stay and watch you crawl
As if that would take away the pain
You know what you did, wasn't right
And you know you'll do it again

Chorus;

I want to you go, get away from me
As far as far as possibility
Maybe you should go to hell
With open arms they know you well

Chorus;
