
What?!

Intro;

I ask you what you're thinking/ you don't answer me
I ask you what you're feeling/ how you feel about me
I ask you what you're looking at/ staring out at nothing
It seems as though I'm here with you/ you're not here at all

I could ask you, What's going on?/ your lips don't move
What does your heart tell you/ about what I'm saying
What does the future hold/ if you won't talk to me
Doors don't close, window's open, my love for you is flaying away

chorus;

What will I do if you send me away
What is the question I have everyday
Things don't get better, I don't know why
Tell me what went wrong, I'll try not to cry

Verse;

What does it mean where there's no conversation
If we can't talk it out there's no solution
Maybe you don't want what I thought we used to be
That could be alright if you'd just tell me

I am not interested in making this worse
I'm not sure what I've done, it's like I'm cursed
Not so long ago we were doing fine
You offered your heart and I gave you mine

chorus;

What?!

Verse;

I suspect there's someone else, or our love ran cold
What might have happened is our love got stale and old
There's no denying that our flames burned fast and hot
But it feels like cold ashes is all that I've got.

End?
