

Someone just like you

As I look around the room
Why can't I see you here?
I'm sure we came together
But now it seems that you're not here.

I wonder if I'm going blind
That certainly seems true
All my life I've been looking
For someone just like you

I'm getting old, forget so much
Like how to flirt or romance
That's why I invited you
Here so we could dance

We didn't agree on who would lead
Stumbled began to laugh
Picked myself off the floor
You were no longer there

I walk outside for some fresh air
Try to clear my head
There you are with a friend
That kiss, I wish was mine
Never knew how hard could be
Never wanted to
Now I know what's going on
With someone just like you
